ABOUT US

We are a tech factory located in Dhaka, Bangladesh. We develop all kinds of software for clients and help them get customized digital solutions for a cutting-edge, state-of-the-art experience. Rigg Technologies is a hub for software development expertise and we work by utilizing the best out of existing resources as well as by incorporating modern technologies and creating new materials to provide superior products. We introduce our clients to the endless possibilities of the seamlessly expanding technology world to tackle any challenges a business/organization might face. We put our clients at the forefront of all projects and work with them closely from initial inception to all the way through delivery to not only create a solution that meets their requirements, but also one that they love.
