Technologies we work with

Md. Saiful Islam

CHAIRMAN

Throughout his professional journey, he has remained deeply inspired by the transformative impact of technology – not merely as a tool, but as a force capable of simplifying complexities and reshaping the way organizations operate. His years of hands-on experience at Nature Source Enterprise allowed him to observe real operational challenges within traditional business environments, and from that understanding, he cultivated a strong belief in the need for solutions that are modern, scalable, reliable, and adaptable to the diverse nature of businesses across Bangladesh and beyond.

With a keen eye for long-term growth and sustainability, he recognized a significant gap in the availability of accessible and customizable enterprise software – solutions that could truly respond to local market needs, not just replicate global standards. This realization formed the foundation of his mission: to introduce technology that empowers organizations to streamline processes, enhance decision-making, and operate with greater speed and accuracy.

Driven by clarity, ambition, and a future-focused mindset, he aims to redefine how companies harness technology for operational excellence. His direction and leadership are rooted in a philosophy of continuous improvement, where innovation is not just encouraged, but embedded within the organizational DNA. His vision is to see businesses evolve from manual dependency to digitally enabled ecosystems – unlocking efficiency, growth, and new opportunities for the next generation of entrepreneurs and industry leaders.

Md. Amirul Islam

MANAGING DIRECTOR

He has been a technology visionary from an early age, continuously inspired by how modern systems can reshape the way businesses operate and scale. With a naturally analytical mind and a deep curiosity for digital transformation, he has always believed that technology is not merely a tool — it is a catalyst for progress, efficiency, and limitless opportunity.

Through his extensive professional journey at Nature Source Energy Limited, he gained firsthand experience in organizational challenges, operational gaps, and the need for structured automation. This exposure strengthened his belief that the future belongs to businesses that combine data, technology, and strategic thinking. With this conviction, he saw an opportunity to bridge traditional business practices with intelligent systems that reduce human dependency, minimize operational friction, and maximize measurable outcomes.

His relentless pursuit of digital excellence drove him to reimagine how organizations of all sizes — from small enterprises to large corporations — can operate smarter, faster, and more efficiently. He firmly advocates that technology should not be a luxury or an afterthought, but a core driver of growth, sustainability, and long-term success.

Today, he stands not just as a leader, but as a forward-thinking architect of transformation — dedicated to empowering businesses to embrace automation, enhance productivity, and unlock their true potential in a fast-evolving world.

Md Nahid Hasan Shuvo

DIRECTOR & CEO

Nahid's journey began in the trenches of data, at ThinkBiz Exchange Limited (2019-2020), where as a Data Analyst, he sharpened his tools, identifying key market trends across 30+ markets and implementing agile processes. He saw how data flowed, and crucially, how it could be weaponized.

This realization drove him to Time research & innovation. As an Associate Product Manager/Research Engineer (2020-2021), he dove into the guts of product requirements, improving functionality by 22% and establishing roadmaps that stuck. He then ascended to Head of Research And Development (2021-2023), a period of explosive impact. Leading a cross-functional team of 90+ members, Nahid wasn't just building; he was optimizing. He drove a 33% increase in product adoption and translated customer needs into 250+ user stories. His go-to-market strategies were legendary, adding 90,000 daily active users and boosting revenue by 24%. He learned the mechanics of corporate success—but the core values felt hollow.

He carried his deep knowledge of civic technology from his tenure as Head of Project Management at Teknolojia Limited (2023-2024), where he managed public-facing projects like Revenue Management and Traffic Violation Automation under the Dhaka North City Corporation. This work—technology merging with socio-economic activities—showed him the profound, immediate power of tech to improve lives, but also the inherent risk of central control. He also worked with the Citizen Trust for research & development on data-driven rural development, solidifying his belief in tech for the collective good.

The culmination of these experiences—the data-driven optimization, the product innovation, and the civic application—led to the founding of Snaptec Limited.
