Major Technology Partner

Support_Service

FRED provides comprehensive after sales support services for all the products offered to clientele. FRED has strategically located expert engineers throughout the country to serve their customers. Their support teams are comprised of product-wise dedicated field service engineers, supervisors, software engineers, systems administrators & managers; who continuously work with the product manufacturers/developers to stay updated with the latest technologies. FRED takes a proactive approach to software maintenance, by focusing on long-term functionality, stability and preventive maintenance to avoid problems that typically arise from incomplete or short-term solutions. This approach, coupled with quality processes, allows clients to reduce recurring maintenance costs. FRED also invested in internal development and purchase of software tools to increase automation of their delivery systems and thereby enhance productivity.

Managed Services

Managed Services is the practice of transferring day-to-day related management responsibility as a strategic method for improved effective and efficient operations.

FRED's vision is to empower companies and individuals to access personalized solutions, products and services when, where and how they may choose. It will integrate all elements of a system - new and existing - into a single solution that addresses strategic growth, outstanding service and community involvement. This puts FRED in a perfect position to offer "Managed Services" all across the country. FRED will get advantage to enter into "Managed Service" model business surely.

Globally, the "Managed Services" Model is widely acknowledged as the best practice to adopt for information technology outsourcing. Widely tipped as the holy grail of information technology outsourcing, "Managed Services" model is an attractive proposition both to customers as well as the service provider.

One other advantage is the access the customer has to specialists with defined skill sets. The service provider maintains a staff of specialists whose skills benefit the companies that subscribe to the "managed service". Technical innovations and solutions are implemented quickly and at a reasonable cost. The customer is not required to continually expand its own technical staff. It is challenging for non-technology institutions to retain highly skilled technology staff once they have reached maturity. Technology being its core business, Fred Intelligence Limited is in the perfect position to retain strong competent talents well versed in the practice of providing technology support to customers
