Company Overview

www.aan-nahl.com

AAN-NAHL is a full-service multidisciplinary engineering and contracting company based in Bangladesh. We started as a start-up software outsourcing company back in 2010. At AAN-NAHL we specialize in transforming complex business needs into intelligent, scalable, and practical digital solutions with over two decades of proven experience and have been growing every year.

We design technical solutions for our clients. We offer a complete range of professional services to National and International customers across multiple industries. We understand the challenges that our customers face within and across these industries. We provide practical, pragmatic and powerful solutions to address those challenges.

Guided by our commitment to perfection, we help business ideas turn into impactful digital products that accelerate business growth and success.

With a strong foundation built on expertise, integrity, and innovation, we continue to shape the future of technology — one perfect solution at a time. Now we have evolved into a trusted global technology partner renowned for precision, quality, and innovation.

15 years. 100+ Projects completed. 50+ Companies

<https://www.internetzonei.com>

Internetzone I started up in 1999, and we've been on an awesome ride ever since. From our beginnings as an SEO consulting company to launching the first web analytics app in 2005 or creating a platform for agencies in 2009 to investing in other startups in 2014, we've stayed true to our core beliefs- we will treat others the way we wish to be treated: with respect for their thoughts, feelings and opinions - and to deliver an exceptional experience for our clients and agency partners. Oh - and to get killer results!
