The team and the architecture of consultancy model is described here

1.0 Company Profile

1.1 About stc bangladesh

1.1.1 Background

stc bangladesh is a well-known consultancy and training institute, having its operation in Bangladesh and USA. stc bangladesh started its operation in April 2012 with the vision of providing world class consultancy and training services. It provides training and consultancy on Project Management, Strategy Management and Operational Excellence through Lean, Six Sigma and TQM.

stc bangladesh is the first consultancy firm in Bangladesh which started Lean Six Sigma, project management with local resources.

1.1.3 Our strengths

- We partner with our clients to design customized solutions that create lasting competitive advantage.
- to self-sufficiency as quickly as possible. Usually, this means creating a Operational Excellence (OE) Team or capable change management experts from within the company to take over our role. At this point we become redundant.
- All our consultants are certified from internationally recognized institutes like ASQ, STC Global etc.
- We have years of hands on experience on 5S, Kaizen, Lean, TQM, Six Sigma and KPI management
- Our institute demonstrates ‘Best-Practice Certification Architecture’ and ‘Protocol’ for trainings and certifications.

1.2.2 Consultancy for Operational Excellence

We provide consultation on Operational Excellence. Our solution encompasses from six sigma deployment, TQM implementation to 5S and kaizen deployement stc is a local resource which, at the same time, is part of an international network of project management and Six Sigma practitioners.

Strategy, KPI and performance management:
We work with management team in an organization to formulate strategy. Once the strategy is understood, we map KPIs current state and then based on process KPI descriotion and KPI trend analysises are done and shown in KPI dashboard.

Lean Implementation:
Our team of experienced Lean practitioners will work closely with you to understand your business processes and identify areas for improvement. We will then develop a customized Lean implementation plan tailored to your unique needs

Six Sigma Deployments:
There might be many reasons company might want to deploy six sigma initiatives in their organization. Unlike traditional consultants, we work as deployment Partners. We help company derive workable initiatives from strategy; we equip organization wide project managers with right tools and techniques. Once organization starts implementing six sigma initiatives, we help them develop mechanism for monitoring CTQs.

TQM Implementation:
We develop QC circle within the organization, train on basic and new QC tools and once initiatives are in place we develop mechanism to sustain the continuous improvement culture.

5S and Kaizen Deployement:
We initially provide training to all employees on 5S and kaizen. Then

stc bangladesh | consistency continuity competence

"As a financial institution with over 23 years of institutional knowledge, it was paramount that we propelled our commitment to the ongoing education for our employees and to ongoing and practical process improvement. With stc, we embarked on a lean six sigma journey by introducing and exposing our people to the concepts and methodologies. I found the course to be absolutely excellent. It is to the point, presented very well, and enhances the learning experience in many ways. We continue to invest in building a roster of certified individuals to champion efforts and mentor others throughout our company. stc's flexible programs and superb customer service has extended the perfect partnership to progress us towards our goal. I would recommend stc for any six sigma learning and development initiative."

Their training was far from boring; in fact, it was conducted in a remarkably friendly and engaging manner. The use of relevant examples was particularly impressive, as they were not only easily understandable but also served to reinforce the valuable knowledge gained from STC. The content covered in the training has proven to be exceptionally useful, with the majority of it being directly applicable to our organization's needs.
