ABOUT US

OUR COMPANY

CODEXCUBE IT is a recognized name in the web design industry. For the past five years, we've been doing what we love: inventing, conceptualizing, designing, developing and deploying websites and applications that our customers love.

The internet today contains over two billion web sites; with hundreds more appearing every day.

We all know it's easy to have a web site design, but attracting your target audience amid all the clutter is not. This is why at Vatraneet we specialize in making web sites that really work!

We are Web Design and Development Company

CODEXCUBE IT Solutions is an innovative Web Design and Development Company that creates healthy Website, Plugin, Web application and Web-based software. We have highly professional and skilled Web Designers and Developers to handle all kinds of Web Design and Development project needs. During the last five years in Software Development Industry, our experience and expertise exceeded in certain sections of the Web technology areas more with the help of our expert Web Developer and Designer team. These include building Responsive Website, Plugin, E-commerce payment gateway, customization of Joomla, WordPress, Magento, Drupal and Oscommerce Website.

We implement the latest technologies most often, our Development practices backed by traditional IT processes and methodologies to ensure quality.

We are skilled on Web Design and Development!

A productive Website is much important for a business these days, if you are thinking to develop a Website for your business – we will be glad to discuss your requirement. We promise you to be your most favorite Website Design and Development Company. The process of working with us is simple from beginning to conclusion with no confusing technical language – our skilled Developers and Designers are cordial enough to understand about business and how to present your business model to online success. Our job is not only creating the best websites for your company, but we discuss an extra mile to move you forward in deploying a brand strategy, reorganizing your online existence and help you to dominate your business area. Our skilled personnel always analyze all the changes that occur over the internet and hence we can give clear suggestions to our outsource clients based on their business strategies and locations.

WHAT WE DO

OUR SERVICE

CODEXCUBE IT is an extremely detail oriented IT farm, with great coding skills. To give you an example: one time, when we were talking about getting together on a project, I sent a sample.psd file, asked them to turn it into a web page. Within 3 hours, they had responded with a web page, on their own server, that was a 100% faithful replication of the .psd file I'd sent them (which, if you do web design, you know can be hard to do), was 100% cross-browser compatible, and had flawless coding. Developers of CODEXCUBE IT has also assisted me as a subcontractor on my own work, and each time her coding has been without flaw. And I'm a pretty picky person.

E-Commerce Development

The Internet is the best place to sell stuff. Where else can you reach an unlimited audience while keeping underlying costs low by automating sales processes and cutting conventional shopkeeping costs?

Brand Identity

Ensures the most effective brand graphics and ideas for your company's brand image across all channels. Our business started as a design and identity development company.

Web Design

The world of web design is constantly changing. Last year's breakthrough design ideas are old news today

Marketing

Twitter and Facebook are a company's essential tools for engaging with potential or existing clients

Web Development

CODEXCUBE IT operates as a start-up when it comes to web development. This means that we work in small teams and everyone does what they enjoy the most. We utilize multiple technologies in order to achieve the best results. Our favorite technologies.

Social Media

Social media is the modern word-of-mouth marketing tool. It's not easy to engage, but the payoff is generous. You'll soon see the benefit of a strong social media presence. The question is: The answer is simpler than you may think: you tell the social media world about what you do. If you are in business and your products or services are in demand, you will be searched for, you will be found, and you will be followed. CODEXCUBE IT Design offers a full cycle of social media services:

Social Media

High-quality website content is not easy to write. You want to use as many search engine keywords as possible, and you may not think your audience even demands well-written content. Is it worth it to throw style and quality out the window? We don't think so, and we don't think you should have to. Our content generation is always a three-step process, beginning with writing, moving on to editing, and finishing.

with optimizing. Our content writers have experience in typography, which helps them populate websites with content that looks natural. We offer striking content generation services to any business:

Content Management

Your website is never "done". Updating your site is essential, and requires the use of a Content Management System (CMS). There are many systems to choose from, so our choice of a CMS usually depends on the required functionality and scalability requirements of the project.

Online Store Development

The Internet is the best place to sell stuff. Where else can you reach an unlimited audience while keeping underlying costs low by automating sales processes and cutting conventional shopkeeping costs? E-Commerce success, however, depends on what you're selling. You need to have a unique product.

This does not pose a problem for well-established companies, but it may be an issue for entrepreneurs.

Contact CODEXCUBE IT E-Commerce Solutions Center for more info and to find out whether a custom E-Commerce website is right for you. CODEXCUBE IT is familiar with multiple E-Commerce engines such as CS Cart, Magento, X-Cart, various E-Commerce WordPress plug-ins, and many others. We are happy to give you informed advice. Call CODEXCUBE IT to get a free consultation about E-Commerce web design services.

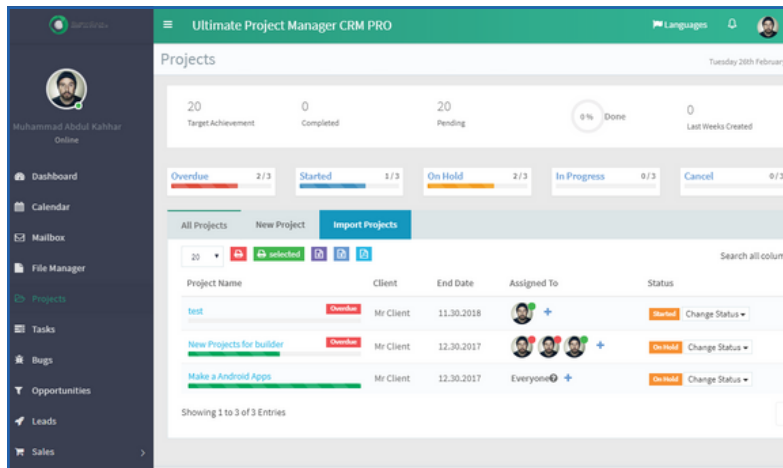

Graphic Design

We believe successful design is achieved by combining creativity and thoughtful decision making. Over the course of our career, We had the pleasure of working with creative and talented teams. Each step has allowed me to develop our own skillset and eye for design.
